⁸ Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued, not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain.

⁹ They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience.

¹⁰ And let them also be tested first; then let them serve as deacons if they prove themselves blameless.

¹¹ Their wives likewise must be dignified, not slanderers, but sober-minded, faithful in all things.

¹² Let deacons each be the husband of one wife, managing their children and their own households well.

¹³ For those who serve well as deacons gain a good standing for themselves and also great confidence in the faith that is in Christ Jesus.

2. Plan with your co-workers to appoint and encourage deacons.

Pray with your colleagues that the Lord will raise up deacons who will serve the needy with joy and strength from the Lord.

Assess the practical needs of the believers and the community that could be met by your congregation.

If you have heard complaints from some believers, then talk together about what could be done to solve their problem, and who will help.

Talk together about practical things you all do for the congregation, such that you and your co-workers are too busy to learn the Bible, to pray for all the believers, and to plan how to help the congregation to grow.

Talk together about believers who have gifts and passions to help others. Then pray for those believers by name.

Contact those believers and talk with them about their vision to help meet practical needs of believers and community members.

Be careful: do not plan how to get the believers to work without pay in your garden or business.

3. Plan with your co-workers the up-coming worship time.

Read or tell the story of the first deacons in Acts 6:1-6.

Have the children present to the adults the skit and questions that they have prepared.

Review with the believers what the New Testament teaches about deacons who serve the needy, citing some passages from part 1, above.

Read or tell the story of Dorcus Acts 9:36 – 42. Talk about how the Lord Jesus loves to serve his people through those who enjoy serving the needy.

Let the believers share testimonies about how they have been served by other believers.

If a believer has accepted to serve as a deacon, then you and the elders can lay your hands on them during the worship meeting, and pray for them.
